design made happy

heim interiors™

We're a Manila-based interior design firm that makes 'happy' a working philosophy.

Our vision is not limited to bright and bold combinations but caters to every client's dream space.

In the few years that we have been working, we have influenced the approach to design in the industry. We see each process as collaborations with not only homeowners but also entrepreneurs – which result in a fresh mix that redefines any space or place.

Lead by the city's most sought after designer, IDr. Rossy Yabut Rojas, our promise is to give life, warmth and excitement with our approach on design.

Nice to meet you.

Heim Interiors is a sister company of Heima Home & Lifestyle*

The People / Creative Thinking

Rossy Yabut is an artist.

Despite a continuously evolving style, what's consistent is Rossy's grasp of inspiring interior design. A lover of color and patterns, her style influence creates a happy and energetic fusion of classic layouts on modern themes, achieving fresh and elegant results.

She extends her vision as she works alongside her fellow designers-on-the-rise in Red Box - a program that has artists who work with local manufacturing companies to bring local design global. Named the country's most sought after designer (CondoLiving, 2013), Rossy leads design teams for both Heima and Heim Interiors.

Heim Projects / BAYO

BAYO • Glorietta

A brand that bloomed from Bacolod, we imagined their branch to resemble elements from its roots. Plantation Chic was executed through the homey and lush textures of wood while bringing out the fun and quirky products on display.

Heim Projects / Pink Me Up

Pink Me Up • Mandaluyong

It's seen as every girl's pampering paradise in the urban jungle. Pink Me up is all about celebrating the fun things about being a woman in the most comfortable and relaxing setting.

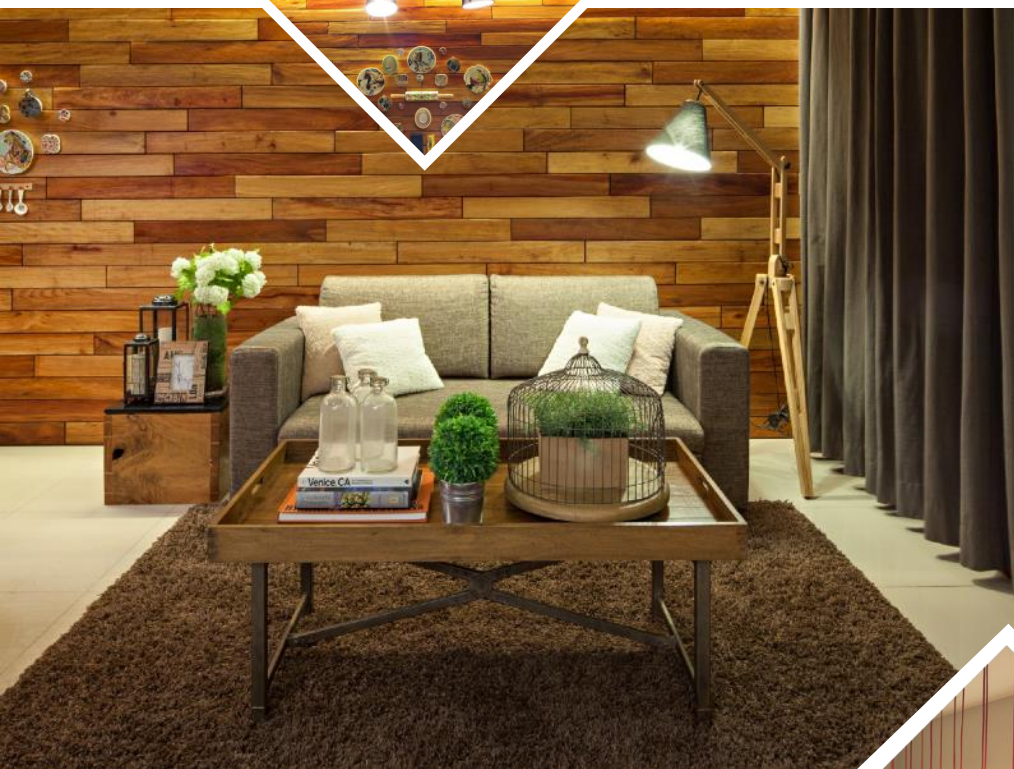

Heim Projects / Lailani Gotao

Lailani Gotao • Residential

Reflecting the owner's penchant for detail in every space, this home is one of our favorites. The oriental influences and a mixture of patterns result in a fresh and modern spin on one of the classic styles in interior design.

Heim Projects / Nelwin Uy

Nelwin Uy • Residential

The home of the popular lensman easily comes out as lived-in and put together. Using contrasting pieces along with the distinct detail of exposed decor, this would-be home is ready to make more memories.

Heim Projects / Clark Weekend Home

Clark Weekend Home • Pampanga

The Beltrans wanted their home to be both a shelter and an escape. The space boasts of homegrown ambience and furniture reflecting their roots. Located conveniently beside a golf course, the family can skip next door to enjoy their favorite activity.

Heim Projects // Solenn Heussaff

Solenn Heussaff • An Artist's Abode

Known for her beauty, few people know of Solenn as an artist. Unlike her first apartment, she wanted this side of herself to be reflected in her second home. Inspiration came from Solenn's and her partner Nico's respective hometowns, France and Argentina. The combination gives off an energy of chic comfort and rustic vibrance.

Heim Projects / Vanilla Cupcake Bakery

Vanilla Cupcake Bakery • Bonifacio Global City

This has been one of our most colorful collaborations and owner Cris Roque's love for explosions of color was well-before Heim came around. Not every branch is the same but there is the signature of visual abundance. Cris wanted customers to find something new in every visit, whichever location they might go.

Heim Projects // Phoebe Ng

Phoebe Ng • Circulo Verde

Working in Makati, Phoebe wanted to come home to comfort but still maintain that fast energy she revels in the day-to-day and a hub for her inspirations on traveling. Using masculine elements set in soft colors, her apartment becomes a welcoming café-like space that's uber chic and perfect to relax and unwind in with friends.

Heim Projects / Kris Aquino

Kris Aquino • Quezon City

Symbolizing a new beginning, Kris chose an all white theme for her three-story home. Despite that, her colorful personality shone through and the refreshing facades have now become the perfect frame that surrounds her home with a calm and peaceful energy.
